Midwest Wrestling Association World Junior Heavyweight Title (191 lbs max)

At various points in the 1940s, the title lineages in Dayton and Cincinnati varied significantly from the one in Columbus. As Al Haft's booking office was located in Columbus, the lineage in that city is considered the main one with the variations listed here.

Dayton Branch

| | | |
|------------|--|----------------|
| 1942/03/05 | Jules LaRance | Columbus, OH |
| 1942/08/11 | The Great Mephisto | Dayton, OH |
| | LaRance beat Mephisto for the title 1942/08/25 in Dayton, OH but the title was returned to Mephisto due to a controversial first fall and no rest period between falls. | |
| 1942/10/12 | Martini Angelo | Charleston, WV |
| 1942/11/03 | Jules LaRance | Dayton, OH |
| 1942/11/10 | Martini Angelo | Dayton, OH |
| | [...] | |
| 1945/03/20 | Pierre LaBelle | Dayton, OH |
| 1945/04/03 | Whitey Whittler | Dayton, OH |
| | As a way to address the different lineage in Dayton, newspapers reported that Frankie Talaber had beaten LaBelle in Columbus, OH after this title change but it was actually before. | |
| 1945/05/15 | Billy Weidner | Dayton, OH |
| 1945/05/22 | Pierre LaBelle | Dayton, OH |
| | LaBelle was last billed as champion the following week. There was to be a series of matches to clear up the title claims. Frankie Talaber beat LaBelle 1945/07/03 in Dayton and was then to meet Weidner. That match did not happen in Dayton, but when Talaber appeared as champ in August, it was mentioned he had beaten Weidner two weeks prior. | |

Cincinnati Branch

1934/04/26 Billy Thom Columbus, OH
Beat Wildcat McCann to become first champ.
Stacey Hall had beaten Silent Rattan 1934/01/17 in Columbus, OH in a match billed as for the first championship. However, due to a controversial finish the title recognition was not given.
In cities that recognized Thom as champion, the World Junior Middleweight Title champions recognized in Cincinnati and Lexington were said to be "claimants" due to a match 1934/06/14 in Cincinnati where Silent Rattan beat Thom, but was said to be over the weight limit.
Thom beat Silent Rattan 1934/08/08 in Columbus, OH with that match being billed as settling the title controversy. However, Rattan had lost the title several weeks prior in Lexington, KY.
1937 TITLE ABANDONED
In June 1937 Thom is noted to be the former champion and later articles mention he had outgrown the weight class

Midwest Wrestling Association World Junior Middleweight Title (152 lbs max)

These champions were recognized in the southern end of Al Haft's reach including Cincinnati, Lexington, and sometimes Dayton. The title changes reported by Dayton newspapers were not how the title truly passed hands, but a way to recognize whoever could be booked as champion.

1934/04/20 Billy Thom Cincinnati, OH
Beat George Gable to become first champ.
Later articles note the NWA was not recognizing this match as for the title, but others refer to the champs as recognized by the NWA.

American Wrestling Association World Heavyweight Title (Ohio branch)

| | | |
|------------|---|----------------|
| 1945/06/27 | Frank Sexton | Boston, MA |
| | Beat Steve Casey for Boston-based AWA World Title; First defends title in Ohio in early 1946 | |
| 1950/05/23 | Don Eagle | Cleveland, OH |
| | Gorgeous George double crossed Don Eagle 1950/05/26 in Chicago, IL. It was previously believed that George was then billed as champ in Chicago and Boston, but that is not the case. No mention of the title was made in newspaper articles or during commentary of the match. However, Kohler did state that George had won the European and Eastern States titles from Eagle who had recently won them from Sexton. | |
| 1952/05/01 | Bill Miller | Pittsburgh, PA |
| 1952/09/02 | Don Arnold | Dayton, OH |
| 1952/10< | Buddy Rogers | |
| | Rogers billed as champ starting 1952/10/09 in Columbus, OH match. | |
| | Arnold had successfully defended the title 1952/10/07 in Dayton, OH and Rogers was in Holyoke, MA on 1952/10/08 so this looks to be a phantom title change. | |
| | In the build up for the 1952/10/14 match in Dayton, newspaper articles billed the match as for the AWA World Title. However, post match results (and build up for the next week) state that Rogers retained his AWA Eastern States Title. | |
| | Some title histories list Arnold winning the title sometime in January 1953 and Rogers regaining it in Cleveland, OH on 1953/01/29. | |
| | However, Cleveland newspaper articles make no mention of Arnold as champion or Rogers winning the title on that date. | |
| 1953/03/05 | Antonino Rocca | Cleveland, OH |
| 1953/04/09 | Buddy Rogers [2] | Cleveland, OH |
| 1953/05/18 | VACANT | Cleveland, OH |
| | Stripped for not defending against Ruffy Silverstein; a tournament is scheduled 1953/05/21 but is cancelled | |
| 1953 | TITLE ABANDONED | |

Eastern Title

This title was original billed as being recognized by the AWA. Starting in the latter half of 1953, it was said to be recognized by the NWA. In some cities it's referred to as the Eastern States Title while in others it's just the Eastern Title. There were several title changes in Maryland that were not recognized in Ohio. These are not included in this lineage.

| | | |
|------------|--|------------------|
| 1952/10< | Buddy Rogers | |
| | Articles in the Dayton, OH newspaper build up the 1952/10/14 match between Arnold and Rogers as for the AWA World Title, but match results state that Rogers retained his AWA Eastern States Title. He was the current champion for the title based out of Boston. | |
| 1953/02/24 | VACANT | Dayton, OH |

Midwest Tag Team Title

- 1959/05/07 Tournament for Initial Champions
The Iron Russians beat Bearcat Wright & Sweet Daddy Siki 1959/05/07 in Columbus, OH but the commission declared the match a no contest.
- 1959/05 Sweet Daddy Siki & Bearcat Wright
It's unknown how Siki & Wright became champions
Sweet Daddy Siki & Big Daddy Siki are billed as champs in northeast Ohio cities. Big Daddy was probably Bearcat Wright.
- 1959/06< The Iron Russians: Ivan & Orlof Zarnoff (Hans Schnabel & Lou Newman)
The Russians beat Siki & Wright 1959/05/30 in Columbus but the commission overturned the result. There was a rematch the following week, but the results are unknown.
In Cincinnati, The Russians were billed as champions June 5 and June 19 with them beating defending champions Frankie Talaber & Leon Graham on June 12. Either there were quick title changes or more likely the newspaper incorrectly listed Talaber & Graham as champions.
